Provider Spotlight: Cedars-Sinai Medical Group

Since its inception in 1985, Cedars-Sinai Medical Group (CSMG) has focused on providing primary care, disease prevention and specialty care for children and adults. The group has more than 100 multi-specialty and primary care physicians in several offices throughout Beverly Hills and Los Angeles.

For the fifth consecutive year, CSMG has been ranked one of California's top-performing physician organizations by the Integrated Healthcare Association (IHA). The IHA is a non-profit statewide collaborative leadership association that promotes quality improvement, accountability and affordability for the benefit of California consumers. The IHA gives its Top Performance Award to medical groups and independent physician associations (IPAs) that prove to be leaders based on quality performance.

For the third consecutive year, CSMG has been awarded "Elite" status (the highest designation) by the California Association of Physician Groups (CAPG). This rating is based on results from the annual CAPG "Standards of Excellence" program, which surveys CAPG medical groups' infrastructure to offer steadily improving clinical quality, affordability, access, technology, public accountability and individual responsiveness for people. "We are extremely proud of this honor," commented Cedars-Sinai Medical Delivery Network's Chief Executive Officer Thomas D. Gordon. "Our team truly cares about each and every Medical Group patient, and this is validation that our hard work and commitment to providing them with the highest quality care is making a difference."

CSMG has worked diligently to maintain high standards of clinical care and service for its patients. Beech Street has had a long-standing relationship with CSMG, and remains committed to providing access to a broad range of quality medical providers to our clients and their members. For a complete listing of participating providers and hospitals in the Beech Street Network please visit our online directory at www.beechstreet.com.

ppoNEXT Integration Update

The foundation of our business is the providers who participate in the Beech Street Network and communicating updates to you is important to us.

As we have shared with you in previous editions of the Beech Bulletin, we are in the final stages of transitioning ppoNEXT customers from the ppoNEXT name to the Beech Street name, and, for a period of time, patient identification cards and/or explanations of payment will refer to either the Beech Street or ppoNEXT name or logo. We anticipate that this transition period will likely last until early 2010 or until all customers using our network have re-issued their patient ID cards. Once this transition is completed, the ppoNEXT name will no longer be used. During the transition period, changes may occur with regard to the claims processing systems used for some of our customers. We encourage you to submit billings for services rendered as soon as possible in an effort to minimize the impact this change in systems may have on claims processing.

Currently, providers may be using a post office box or Addison, Texas, address to submit hard copy claims to ppoNEXT. Effective January 1, 2010, we will no longer accept paper claims through this post office box or the Addison office. Please contact the payor identified on the patient's identification card to determine the appropriate address for submission of claims subsequent to that date.

Please continue to communicate with us using the telephone, fax and e-mail information in the Provider Contact section of this newsletter. Our Provider Manual, current listing of clients and instructions for submitting e-mail and address updates can be found in the Provider section of our website at www.beechstreet.com. Thank you for the opportunity to continue to build a mutually rewarding relationship. ↵

Client Spotlight: Educators Mutual

For nearly 75 years, Educators Mutual has served Utah's educational community with a full range of insurance products and services through Educators Mutual Insurance Association (EMIA). Educators Health Plans Life, Accident and Health is a wholly owned subsidiary of EMIA, organized to provide the same high-quality insurance benefits to the commercial business sector throughout the United States.

Educators Mutual takes great pride in the overall quality and excellence of the products and services it offers to individual members, employer groups and business partners. In a recent member survey, Educators Mutual recorded an overall satisfaction ranking of 93 percent on quality of benefits, network of physicians and facilities, fast and accurate claim payments and customer service. In addition to this recognition, Educators Mutual was honored as Utah's Best of State winner in the Insurance Category for 2009. ↵

Patient Identification Card

The patient identification (ID) card remains a valuable source of claims submission information for providers. As applicable under the eligible person's benefit plan, a patient ID card is issued to the eligible person by the client or payor.

Key payor information is provided on the ID card. This information can include the location of the benefit office, claims payor name, claims mailing address, employer name and policy or group number. We encourage participating providers to use this important contact information to obtain further information on benefit design, eligibility and the payor.

Instructions regarding claims submission, medical management and other claim requirements are also provided on the card. Questions regarding claims or benefits should be directed to the client or payor at the telephone number identified on the ID card. Although format and content of patient identification cards can vary by payor and plan, the patient ID card is always a valuable source of information. A sample card is shown below for your reference.

As a standard administrative practice, many providers keep a copy of the patient ID card, both front and back, in their records. For patients who access one of our logo'd network products, the Beech Street, ppoNEXT, Viant or another Viant affiliate name will appear on the member ID card. The logo may be placed on the front or back of the ID card. ↩

H1N1 Update

Beech Street closely monitors the healthcare industry and the provider community to keep apprised of important changes that impact administration of the Beech Street Network and your participation. As part of this effort, we learned the recent H1N1 epidemic has resulted in a need to modify certain billing procedures and we have adopted the procedural recommendations of the AMA and CMS:

When billing for administering the 2009 H1N1 influenza type A monovalent vaccine, the recommendation is to report CPT code 90663 (Influenza virus vaccine, pandemic formulation, H1N1) in conjunction with the immunization administration code 90470 (H1N1 immunization administration [intramuscular, intranasal], including counseling when performed). Providers may be paid for administration of the H1N1 vaccine, but since the 2009 H1N1 vaccine will be government-provided free of charge, no payment may be issued for CPT code 90663. When billing 90663, CMS guidance for reporting the charge of the 2009 H1N1 vaccine product on the claim form is that zero dollars should be listed following code 90663.

For additional information on the recommendation for H1N1 billing procedures, please visit the following sites:

AMA website at:

CMS Website at:
